Spencer Hart treats himself to his first Cruso in some time with the signing of Gabriel Duverger, who pairs up with international colleague Damien Cosette. The loss of Kramer Detheridge, Tobias Waymouth and Radolph ven Marinus needed to snare Duverger is countered by the capture of Bakacka Mo, who is suspended for the opening two clashes. Along with the injured Tokimochi Kujimata, the Widows frontline is somewhat different compared to what can be expected by the end of October, with second Columbian signing Costilla Escondido getting two games to show what he can do before the unavailable striking duo return.

RE: Reilloc Elite's relegation to Division 2 came as a disappointment - the club looked set to hold on to a place in Division 1 against all the odds but came unstuck in their final two matches. The future isn't that bright for the club this season either, with Elite looking on paper to be one of the weakest sides in the division. Kubba has addressed the fans' fears, openly stating that he's aware of the problems the club is in and that he and the board are now concentrating on the future rather than the present, and that the club may not attain success for a few years yet. It's a bold move from the young manager and it appears to have won favour with the supporters. However, that support may dissolve quickly when Elite face division favourites SVC07 on Friday. With stalwart defender Francis only on the bench through injury and key midfielder talent Oosterveer serving a two match suspension, pundits are predicting an easy away victory. The bright side is that a number of new prospects will earn their debuts against Gazo's strong outfit, including highly-rated striker Javier Eudoxio who has impressed Kubba enough in training to earn the captain's armband without even a game. Whether he can translate that promise into something special on the field is another matter entirely.

Subs: Cees Kobus 7, Colas Gonsalvas 6, Miki Motovic -. CL: ~WEEK ONE~ Begins a new era for the Lawbreakers in Einnek's bottom tier after a shock relegation. Manager Ady Blyth accepted full blame for the disappointment of last season admitting full responsibility for playing a skill 3 keeper in a home game which ultimately led to a 5-3 defeat, a game which if Calico had won they could have been pushing for promotion. ~THIS WEEK~ Sees Calico play host to Texas Promos and face former players Jordao and Andy Haywood. A win is vital to give the Lawbreakers a decent start of getting out of a tough division. 'The only way is up' quoted Ady Blyth with a smile clearly desperate not to fall into a Mark Croasdale lyric based team news. ~LAST MEETING~ The two sides have never met before ~TRANSFERS~ Calico have been wheeling and dealing all summer long, with 10 new players coming into the team. Those of note who Blyth hopes will make an impact are - Ernie Lombard, a strong Scottish Midfielder who isn't shy to go in for a challenge, Kefentse Valentine, A South African starlet who dazzles the crowds with his dribbling skills, Elffin Von Kamme, the German Hitman who joins the club in replace of fan favourite The Milky Bar Kid and finally Brock Summers, a player who is consistent and will get a full chance with Calico. ~INTERNATIONALLY~ Lots of potential international stars this year so in a nutshell - Alonso, Blackcheek, Nighthawk, Ippolito, Matsui, Lombard, Valentine, Wrapp, Von Kamme, Sansum and Summers should all feature at some point for their country this year. ~AND FINALLY~ The Youth Team has been unveiled, 4 players have caught the eye in particular - Jackson Killdeer, Douglas Woodbine, Ashley Bloomfield and Trenton Ash all seem to be impressing so far.

Subs: Ardaz Nelz 6, Bartolome Mendoza 7, Hugo Ignacio Marquez -. CW: New manager Nikki Wigg has told a number of players they are surplus to requirements. Attacking trio, 4 capped Rocco Von Juhl, 8 capped Morgan McGuffey and 6 capped Dragoman Volt, 1 capped midfielder Drazan Jadranko and defenders, 2 capped Simone Pilkingtoni and 6 capped Gerd Fritjof, are the players in question. Any manager who is interested in these players are free to make offers. New signings Jino Giacamono and Donatello Di Angello make their debuts and there is a starting place for Cruso prodigy Wade Saintbernard. Saintbernard was the subject of no less than a dozen bids this week. A hands off warning has been issued as Wigg sees him as a potential star in the making and is going to give him his chance to impress. Wigg also sees Goalkeeper Tremayn Kilgareth as a key player and is keen to see how the youngster progresses over the season. New Welsh striker Maurice Hooqadew was all set for his debut but was left out as he is carrying a slight knock. Hopefully he will be fit to debut in Wanderers next game. Captain Brodie Hepburn said he was very excited about playing under a new manager and is looking forward immensely to the new season and challenging for promotion.
