Subs: Seecandy Shalyfnde 7, Dragan Sut 6, Marco Hipkiss -. EE: ~LAST WEEK~ Saw a respectable draw against a very good Widows side. Burton was pleased with a draw as points on the road are always a bonus! ~TRANSFERS~ After a slow start to the week the last two days have been crazy in the market, and it all started when a deal was vetoed for Iasa. Burton was disappointed in this decision as he felt the deal was sufficient to go through. Deals had already been made off the back of this deal so Burton felt the need to push through the deal even though he paid more than he wanted. Another deal was then pushed through to get the squad size up to 14 for this week's game. De Visser, Yasudu, Autauga, Cirino, Gilderdale, Toirse, Vanderflore, Demonkovets, Joshua Lee, Cooper and Fortunato all leave the club with Josanovic, Iasa, Huneberg, Toy, Romero, Mirza and Yotaro all joining the club. With 11 out and 7 in it is a massive gamble changing the side around this much especially with a whole new back 5 coming in for the next game but for Iasa Burton felt it was worth the gamble on another player who should get to skill 7 before he drops to a 5. ~THIS WEEK~ 6 new players make their Elementals debut this week. Burton is very nervous about this game especially against a very good Disciples team who is out skill pointing them for the game! Burton always expects home wins but a high score draw would definitely be enough this week. ~INTERNATIONALS~ With Hammerfox missing his second international in a row through suspension no players will feature in this week's games

Subs: Drew Stanley 6, Alvaro Volver 7, Hippolyte Pixii -. KB: The last side that Bambino wanted to be playing this week, following last week's bloodbath, is Mork's Norks. Without captain courageous, Zanebono Di Maggio, (who is out after receiving his second booking last week for saying something to the referee after Slansky Blazina got away scot free for handling the ball), many expected Big Josie to pack his defence with a 523 formation, but he has named an attacking, aggressive formation this week. After netting four goals last week, Jean-Baptiste Vaillant has postponed his retirement and will play again today with pain-killing injections in his right knee. Doctors have warned Vaillant that he may never play again if the knee is further damaged today, so Bambino fans are praying that The Norks don't man mark him with towering thug, Quentin Sevenoaks, who need only one more yellow before facing a suspension. Whatever happens, I'm sure Josie and Mork will have an enjoyable night on the town after the game, which has become the custom after their non-local derby.

BW: Just as the transfer market was starting to see as much action as Dot Cotton's knickers, things went crazy on Wednesday pm with a host of tip-top players being shipped off to pastures new. Spencer Hart was the most chuffed manager of all, ending a two-and-a-half season-long chase with the capture of the red-hot Alfie Moon. It's not the first time Hart has signed the League's Third Highest Performing Striker of the Current Season (tm): last season he pulled off the Gaspar Llamazares coup, only to watch the Spaniard trickle down the ratings charts like mouldy treacle without showing a glimpse of his predatory abilities. Needless to say, the manager is hoping Moon can shoot Widows up the table a rung or three! * Things are tight at Widows after the Moon deal. Neddaerwind's departure necessitates a debut for the unknown quantity Jasper D'Hondt, with Dezire Joy coming in to offer defensive support from the bench. Cezar Lobo gets an unexpected chance to shine before his projected Einnek 1 Christmas exit, while up front Redding Magson is hoping for some minutes in order to stake a claim for a starting berth in a tasty attack before the year ends. * Puablo Sasi's astronomical demands continue to put off potential suitors, with not one offer coming in for the Spanish marksman. Hart has been very openly using Sasi as bait for a powerhouse midfielder and Moon's arrival will surely only see him up the anti.

Subs: Culshaw Dauntless 7, Thaba Cisco 7, Matt Trutwein -. CL: ~LAST WEEK~ The Lawbreakers had another draw at home, this time a 0-0 with Olde Seven Stars. The draw was disappointing for Ady Blyth's team however not unexpected as Olde Seven Stars don't lose many and are excellent on the road. A positive to be taken from the game is the impressive performance from Welsh Keeper Matt Trutwein who kept a clean sheet and bagged an 8 rating for his performance as well. The Negative from the match was the sending off of Kefentse Valentine who gained a straight red on the 81st minute after a crunching tackle on Seven Stars midfielder Pichi Alvez which saw the player stretched off. Blyth although impressed by Valentine this season admitted the player needs to sort his attitude if he is to remain at the club. ~THIS WEEK~ Its on the road for the Lawbreakers as they take on Littleton Rovers. Valentine is suspended so Kobus returns after an impressive debut last time round. Alonso is expected back in goal and Burton Wragg should be fit to play again. ~TRANSFERS~ None ~INTERNATIONALLY~ Blackcheek will be in defence for the USA ~ YOUTH NEWS ~ Expect to see one of the Calico stars of the future make his jump into midfield next week
