YOUTH LEAGUE UPDATE

After a couple of discussions with managers I have decided to work on integrating the youth league into the full game. This will take me a little longer than the updates I have been working on, but I fell this will give the game a more extensive feeling and youth players will be able to be sold and included in deals. In real terms the youth players will be part of the full game.

Rather than rush the implementation, I will schedule this to be complete in time to start next season. I appreciate this is a few weeks away but I fell it is better I set realistic timescales and get things right rather than trying to do small changes bit by bit each week.

Exactly how the new Youth League will work will be outlined in the coming weeks, but I am confident this will be the final incarnation of the youth league and will be worth waiting for.
