

EINNEK NEWS

Hello and welcome to the week 13 turn.

No Turn Next Week

There will not be a turn played next week as I am away for a long weekend in Dubai. As I will be travelling Thursday and have very limited Internet access, I cannot see a feasible way to play the turn as normal. We will be back to normal on September 10th. Sorry for any frustrations this brings you.

Morale & Non-Playing Players

A couple of people have emailed me regarding the number of good players who are not playing regularly for the clubs and suggesting that some sort of morale penalty might be introduced to combat this. My views are quite clear on this issue; 1 – I spent ages encouraging managers to have bigger squads to ensure they can comfortably react to injuries and suspensions, so to penalise them now would be totally unfair, & 2 – There is a simple solution to this issue. Go and sign the players you think deserve to be playing yourself. They may cost you, but if you felt they really could do a good job for you why not try?

Youth League Rule Change

With the new tournament being played in the next turn, I want to make you all aware of one minor rule alteration. If a skill 1 player gets a 5 rating they will now go down to skill zero. As with a player who reaches skill zero through loss of WACS they will automatically retire from the game. A few managers have avoided this during the last 2 tournaments so they can count themselves fortunate.

Enjoy the long weekend,

Richard.

Subs: Dohosan Vinson 6, Jino Giacamono 6, Simone De Ascentis 6, Noble Yanti -. ME: HeyBig isn't sure whether playing Yellowknife Industries on the back of three successive defeats - and their 7 successive victories, not to mention cup run - is a good or bad time to be playing the champions elect. With over twice as many skill points as Eclipse, Industries seem unstoppable ... but then again, the bubble has to burst sometime ... doesn't it? * With the exception of Bakacka Mo, who is nursing a knee injury, Eclipse recall the players who sat out last week's friendly defeat. Tobias French returns between the sticks in a make or break appearance, while a promising back four of Bosch, Raula, Huneberg and Vrooman are charged with the impossible task of limiting, if not stopping, Rob Painter's strikeforce. In midfield the signing of Camillo Celcini forces a change to 4-3-3 in the short-term at least. The attack is spearheaded by Schiaparelli with Freemunda and Saintbernard on the flanks, with the latter's expected involvement with the South Africa B side getting him the nod over in-form Henk Sju, who Mr Hart has promised remains an important player for the team. YI: Manager Rob Painter said in his pre match conference that he has identified the players that he considers the long term future of the club but also stated that it will take every resource the club has to sign them... 'We've opened negotiations and fingers crossed there will be some news soon' he commented.

Subs: Oliande Ntamak 7, Magic Zambezi 6, Joaquim Requião 6, Redding Fairfax -. RR: After having a great goal-scoring debut last week, Redcreek keeps him place in the side and starts alongside new signing Costadinas, who Corder brought in as a youth prospect last season and is now happy to bring him back into the reckoning following his progress as a senior player. New Cameroon signing Chad Tebogo also makes his debut in what is looking like a robust defence that would stand in good stead for next season. Corder's final comment to the press was "Never, as a manager, have I had the luxury of selecting such an in-form group of players. From back to front, we have a team that is inspired, confident and is playing at the top of its game. Recent performances show this to be the case." DD: Season tickets have just gone on sale for the first time this year as the club only sells 'less than half' season tickets.
