

EINNEK NEWS

Hello and welcome to Week 8.

Retired Player Histories

As mentioned last turn, I have been working on a new statistical feature. The first part is now live and can be accessed via the transfers page. Now the payer pop-ups used to show an individual player's stats and playing history are available for players who have retired. In the next two weeks I hope to have all the data loaded up so you will be able to check every player who ever played in this version of the game.

Website Detectives

Every now and then someone will email with a typo or problem on the website. Sometimes I will find a problem. But it seems many of you mention these issues to someone else in the hope they might tell me! Strange, but it does happen. Well in an attempt to get rid of all the silly little errors on the site, I am offering an incentive to tell me anything wrong you find. Any error on the site; typos, layout issues, bad links or anything strange; please email me and you might get youth points as a thanks for your help.

Enjoy the weekend,

Richard.
