

EINNEK NEWS

Hello and welcome to the last turn of Season Seven. We will be having the regular week off this Friday, returning with the first games in Season Eight on Friday 10th June.

Season Eight

The changes announced earlier in the season are all summarised again at the end of the turn. Please make sure you take a good look at them before doing too much with your squads for the new season.

Sherwin Douglas Touring Side

The first players to be made available will be announced with the end of season reset on Thursday.

Have a great week,

Richard.

SEASON EIGHT RULE CHANGES
In Weeks 14 and 15 the first two of the rule changes were implemented, the remainder will come into force after next week's end of season reset
1) The maintenance fees paid each week for the upkeep of your stadiums will increase considerably. Currently too many teams are gambling on having massive grounds just for cup and friendly fixtures where one home tie will pay a season's maintenance easily. Any side who wishes to reduce the capacity of their ground can do so without any penalty.
2) Many managers seem to forget the limit each player has with respect to being retired onto while too many players are being artificially maintain at skill 5 by use of constant training. The current 3 retirals limit will be increased to 5, but any time a player is trained to a higher skill by using Youth Points will also see on retiral point being used. This will give more flexibility to everyone. Changes will be made to the squad sheet pages on the website to ensure this figure is shown more clearly as any have requested.
3) Currently any side which draws a fixture 0-0, 1-1- or 2-2 has the potential to see a player go down if they receive a 5 performance rating with a low skill player rising in skill at the same time. Many sides play a full team including substitutes of skill 5 and above players and therefore manage to avoid this penalty while getting a nice 10 YP bonus if they win the game. From the start of Season Eight, any player getting a performance rating of 5 in such a drawn game will go down automatically even if there is no lesser skilled player eligible to go up.
4) There will also be some changes to the IR calculation for Youth League players to see recent form carrying more weight. This will not be a massive change, but will reward players who play well even semi regularly against players who rely solely on long term international appearances.
5) All players introduced using youth points are automatically youth players. It is too common that new players are promoted straight into the senior ranks while proven youth players are left in the youth team until they are forced to sign senior terms due to their age. From the start of the next tournament, all players will have to be in the youth ranks for a minimum of seven weeks (the equivalent of a single tournament) before they can be promoted to the senior ranks. Player s will be allowed to be bought and sold during this period, but will still have to wait before they offered a senior contract. This change will be brought in at the start of the next Youth League Tournament in Week 3 of the new Season.
6) Youth players who reach 10 IPs will be automatically be promoted to their side's senior squad. Please note...This change was not previously announced.
