

EINNEK NEWS

Hello and welcome to the second week of the new season. Snow has caused chaos up and down the country this week, so I hope you are all staying warm.

B International Fixtures

There was some confusion relating to the sequence of fixtures at international level. This was caused by an error on my part which saw some nations playing senior and B fixtures in the same week. To remove the issue I have re-jigged the B fixture schedules to remove these conflicts. Any player who would now drop skill due to WACS and miss a game now scheduled later than the original list has been given an extra WAC to ensure they are not unduly penalised.

International Rating Calculations

Over the last few weeks there seems to be a groundswell of experts who have worked out the IR calculations, made decisions based on their theory and then found that things did not happen as they expected. While I fully understand that people try hard to work out IR in advance, they are secret for a good reason – to keep some element of surprise in the game. However, I feel I need to enlighten you a little here to try and stem the tide I am spending manually checking things which I find to be correct. IR is based on skill, form, international points, lifetime disciplinary records and age. At each skill level the weightings of these factors change, for example a skill 10 player gets less bonus for a form dot than a skill 7 player as it is expected they will generally perform better. Also as players age their IR penalty increases, but also very young players have a penalty too.

Form Dots from Internationals

After much discussion this week I have re-introduced form dots for good ratings in internationals. All players from last turn have been awarded form if deserved

The Web Forum

Every so often we seem to hit a problem with the forum and it seems we have one this week. For some reason I have never been able to work out some posts get out of hand where people post insulting or ill-formed comments possibly in some form of quirky comment way. This is then taken badly by some and things descend to the point that people decide to stop posting on the forum. While I like to keep the forum as your area and try not to get involved too much, it does mean that you all need to think before you post. If a post offends you the chances are you are either missing a badly constructed jape or the post is plain offensive. Either way a thick second post first blast attack is not the right response.

I would really like to see more people using the forum but everyone needs to stop being so judgemental and overly serious. The forum is meant to be a fun part of the game and a tool to promote your players. Why some see it as a way to try and gain some sort of upper judgemental hand I will never know. Play nicely please!

Have a good snowy weekend,

Richard.

PLAYERS AGENTS : SAMMY BULL & ALLESSANDRO IVANOFF

The adverse weather this week has seen both Mr Bull and Mr Ivanoff jetting off to the Caribbean for some Winter sunshine. They have guaranteed that the first crop of new stars will be made available next week.

A new system will be in place from next week for both agent sales. All players will be listed with no fixed price and will be sold in a blind auction where teams can bid whatever they feel a player is worth. All bids will be in increments of £100,000 (£100k) and the sales will end mid-week so teams will be able to play their new acquisitions in the fixtures that week. No side will be permitted to submit any more than one bid per week for any agent player.

It was such a poor performance collectively that if it wasn't for a late bit of Arillo brilliance they'd have lost the game! ~TRANSFERS~ Where to start? After a very slow preseason a self-imposed transfer ban was on the cards :) then suddenly a flurry of deals in week 2! No other than Mario Maguire himself. After 6 seasons of wanting this player he has finally arrived!! Also through the doors came Schiaparelli, Bilarongo, Darrow, Plesak, Diuedonni, Hernandez, Vessler (yth), Sharkey (yth) and Chaligny (yth). Out went Luis-Bravo, McEwen, Adams, Illingsworth (yth), Ndlovu (yth), Schnauffer, Ramirez and Ljubicic. 10 in and 8 out, ding dong! ~THIS WEEK~ Away to Risky Al's Corscurant Stars. After the disappointing draw last week Burton needs at least a couple of points from this fixture as he doesn't want to big a gap to open up at the top of the division like last season! ~INTERNATIONALS~ Kocboretti and Schiaparelli should both play for their countries. ~YOUTH LEAGUE~ Burton continues to invest in youth and in comes Chaligny and Sharkey and Ovchii to bolster defence, midfield and attack. Illingsworth did leave the club in another deal but the team is looking very strong now and they will have to be at their best if they are to get anything from high flying Wessex Warriors ~AND FINALLY~ Security has been upped at the thunderdome following the arrival of Darrow. However with no other English midfielders playing in the ELA squad the rest of the team should be safe....for now!

Jaramillo starts at the back as Ahidjo is left out completely. New signings Joachim, Saarpanaanar and Thays are all named on the bench. LAST WEEK: Despite a spirited performance the Hearts were unable to avoid a narrow defeat against reigning champions West Leigh Warriors. Meier and Wasimara were both on the score sheet in the 2-3 reversal. THIS WEEK: The Hearts face another tough test as they travel to Norfolk In Ground to take on Richard Gynn's Warmington Bukigura. TRANSFER NEWS: Plenty of activity at Gorgie Road this week. In a deal with Tombstone Trojans, the Hearts captured the signature of Janne Saarpanaanar in exchange for Hiskins and Heroico. Another deal saw four players leave to join neighbours Chesser Hearts. Keeper Barichello, defenders Holtzhausen & Tavish and attacker Simon Westall all left as part of a deal that saw 'keeper Radhika Thays and defenders Aurelien Joachim and Yves Blaise join. Manager Wolters hopes to complete some more deals before next week's visit of Darwin Disciples.

ME: Keen to avoid any repeats of last season's suspension woes, Hey Big has spent the week trying to fine-tune the aggression of Eclipse's starting XI with Abjay Boatang and Jaylo Freemunda mooted as probable departees. However his efforts were to no avail with replies to offers being held up by the treacherous weather conditions that have gripped the country. Cyrus Clay is therefore overlooked again despite the manager being very keen to give the hot-headed Heron his debut for the club. In attack another Heron, Stinelli Paz, keeps his place ahead of Roth and Redcreek with Argentina B kicking off their campaign - and with Eclipse looking at a formation change for next week all three youngsters look likely to miss out unless there is a selection crisis afoot! YOUTH: Vyvyan Deerleap's sensational goal scoring debut gives Spencer Hart his first all-sk5 youth team for some time with the manager keen for the side to pick up their first win in a season that has yet to get going.
