

EINNEK NEWS

Hello and welcome to Week 9 of the season. Apologies again for my complete mess-up last week. I will promise to be more awake from now on!

B Internationals

One suggestion I have had made to me is that B Internationals be open to all players under skill7 who did not play in their nations last full international rather than the current below skill 6. While I have some reservations on this I am open to a discussion on it and the possibility of this being introduced next season. So please feel free to email or discuss on the forum (play nicely!) and let us see where the discussion goes.

One-off Agent Fixture

With no Youth League fixtures next week as the current tournament finishes today, there will be a special one-off agent player game similar to the Sherwin Douglas Touring Side, but featuring some players who will be available in a one-off transfer list sale. All the players will be Nito Cruso stars and will all be young and very raw but maybe worth a gamble if you are looking for some young talent for your youth side.

Have a great weekend,

Richard.

"I for one hope the other half of the Enfield mafia win the title this season!!!"... said Black Star Ultra season ticket holder Grandpa Pigg 'off Peppa Pigg' who has no official ties with the club at all... ~TRANSFERS~ Out went Cary Vidal after he missed his 13th cap last week... in came Russian 9ip youngster Geert Ulderijk and Croatian wonder striker Ivan Dmitar 4/3 from good friend Joe "Budgey" Burridge the famous Gooner fan from out there in the Cosmos.... ~THIS WEEK~ shithouse manager Lucky Burton drags his weary ass off the Weston Super Mare nudists beaches to select another zimmer frame filled squad to pit his wits against "the Ledge" Gaffa Croasy... somehow Lucky managed to scoop the title last season after his old folks day out were gifted a dodgy win against the BSO Bossman.... bungs were a plenty that game yet the EFA found nothing untoward, much to the relief of the physically challenged Cov One.... Jokey and Rex put out a fresh looking Division Two select this week, retaining only captain, Jelle Freissan from the side that were on the wrong end of a 2-0 defeat the last time they met the All Blacks. We were surprised by the formation, but it worked brilliantly in the first half and start of the second half, giving the home side a 2-0 lead. Unfortunately, Ezechial Poggi, Friesen and the boy Pugsworthy were run ragged throughout the 90 minutes and the Douglas boys simply stepped up the tempo in the last twenty minutes of the game and won the game 4-2 in the end. The Trialists DID play well and there were some fabulous performances from the home side – in particular from Ezechial Poggi, who was outstanding today, playing the game of his life. His goal came from nowhere, when he spotted Denis Albert-Bouvier off his line and lobbed the ball fully 60 yards, tucking it under the cross-bar for one of the most unusual goals in the history of the game. It has been confirmed that Trace McGurk will be made available in the next round of Player Auctions, along with talented hard man, João Paulo Fernandes. The other places have yet to be confirmed. Mrs Claps is refusing to comment to the press about the rumours of her having already been in talks with "Dirk", but it is still believed that she is preparing a massive bin for the talented young striker.
