

EINNEK NEWS

Hello and welcome to Week 7. The snow has stayed away and every game went ahead as planned today.

Next Week

There will be no turn next week as I am not going to have access to the Internet all day Friday and Saturday. I had considered playing the turn on Thursday but it would be hard for me to get everything done this week if I attempted that. The Youth League gap week will still be next week, so the next tournament will start on February 17th along with the Week Eight league turn.

Youth League Changes

There is a big proposal on the table relating to the Youth League. Full details can be found following the youth league games in this turn. Please let me have your comments and all being well we will start this new system in a fortnight.

Have a great weekend,

Richard.

Subs: Derenne Noa 7, Levi Thullin 6, Sascha Moreau 6, Giel Van Gouda -. WR: After dropping their first league points of the season, Winchmore have had the busiest transfer week in their history, with eight deals and 19 players leaving! With this week's key game against Stu "Littleleaf IS for sale" Henfrey (who has never beaten Winchmore in over a dozen meetings), the decision to finally invest in a top quality keeper in Gusty after years of goalkeeper rotation, could be the difference between the sides... MS: With just a friendly to play for last week Satans fielded a reserve side against BSO's virtually full strength team & were narrowly beaten 4-3. This week is back to the task in hand & a trip to the original little 'THE'. Both sides go into the match at full strength & it would appear No Hat sees this as a key fixture seeing as he has actually bothered to comment about it, which is something he only ever seems to do when he plays us! 'Maybe he's got an inferiority complex with regards to me as he's never been able to shake off his 'little' tag! I agree its an important game, every game is for us, but I wouldn't say 'key' as its not as if we can't catch them even if we lose!' Stu Henfrey stated. Predictions: Satans Seniors 2 Repetition 2 – Satans Youths 2 FC Cosmos 3

Subs: Geert Ulderijk 6, Rory Gathercole 6, Vasily Ivanov 0, Thomas Griffin -. BSO: A sound demolition of Ice Colds Satans preserved BSO's unbelievable all NGE friendly unbeaten record... it was the third 4-3 win on the bounce and brought great pleasure to Gaffa Croasy and his troops.... Although a tough away draw in the second round of the Cup awaits and MEM doesn't fancy his chances at Al's Coruscant Star.... This week its back to the butter and bread of the Premier Division and the BSO Bossman is expecting no easy game against Jane Clapham (the real power behind the Clapham Empire).... its 22 HSP plays 30 but Marky Mark knows the power of a home advantage but maybe the advantage of 26 to 25 morale points will come into play!.... the Youths are boosted by the arrival of two CTC players... Barbosa Charquito (top Portuguese striker) and Black Star Trialist Captain Delf Constanzo (ball playing Spanish centre half) come into the EYL under the watchful eye of Superstar Gaffa Mark E Mark whose only too willing to take the spotlight off his young fledglings and direct all the attention at himself!.... he's worst then the Henf!!

GI: Alejandro was pleased with last week's EFA Cup win over Northern Wombats, the Imps first victory of the campaign. Revenant Shadows are the visitors to Tynebank this week in what will be a tough encounter. Alejandro has challenged his team to go out and get a shock result against David Jeffery's table toppers. RS: A big change around this week at Shadows, as the second part of the long term plan gets underway. Joord Bastiaan and Larrs Skovengberg became the first two members of the fledgling club's Hall of Fame upon their retirement this week, and both have accepted coaching roles with the club. Bastiaan will be working with the seniors and Skovengberg with the youth side. ----- Amaethon Wayne makes his senior debut this week, with high hopes for the young Welsh striker, who is renowned for his aerial ability and hold-up play.

GH: Xabier is handed his full Hearts début this week as the Gorgie Boys travel to the Tarragindi Recreation Reserve to take on Matt Harrison's Sunshine State Redbacks. Both teams are evenly matched, so a tight game is expected. Wolters was left disappointed after being knocked out of the cup by West Leigh Mercenaries last week. The Hearts boss thought his team deserved more from the game but blames some poor decisions in defence for his side's elimination. The youths take on Dobson Dynamos, hoping for a positive result that will help them avoid the drop to Division Three. Jeroen Heuckerth will be looking to make it three goals in as many games after his super overhead kick against Athleticco Brisbane last week. A lot has been expected of the Dutch forward since his player of the round performance in the CTC at the end of last year and recent performances have drawn praise from fans and critics alike.

CL: It was time for a change at Calico this week as Jerimiah Dulin left the club to join Ditton Shooters and Mexican team mate Hai Azapinto arrived to bolster the team's promotion bid. Blyth could well now end up mixing his formations over the coming weeks to ensure striking talents San Broitas, Petterson and Hagenskog still get a chance to shine. No doubt the surprise performance of last week came from another Mexican - Enriqueta Toraidio. He dazzled the crowds with a 10 rating and now forces himself into a starting place within the team. The youth side will go down this week however the rebuilding job is already in progress - more signings are set to arrive!  TEAM NEWS OF THE WEEK  GE: Religious nut Missael Padilla Espinoza, believes his lucky turquoise boots that he blessed with holy water from his local church, will come up trumps for the rest of the season.

"I've had a few words with Halpainy - he needs to avoid drop-kicking opposition players in front of the referee. He is a vastly experienced keeper who needs to be savvier on the football pitch. With Halpainy not playing in the up-and-coming game against the Marina Grovers, it will be a chance for Ethan Flynn to show me what he is capable of. The fella has looked strong in training, built like an Ox that guy" Even though Flynn is 25 he is still very much a novice. A familiar face will be guest of honour at The Rhubarb, none other than Einnek legend, Alexander Bondarenko. There have been rumours flying about that Alex is set to take up a coaching role with The Wombats. JBE told a local reporter earlier, "I'll have a word with Alex this weekend and see what he is up to at the moment".

Steve Farnden and Joseph Burridge played many new faces in today's game, but the Douglas players were on fire and even if they had been able to put out their strongest team, I couldn't see them coming away with a victory in this one. It was certainly the case that they looked stronger in the second half, after the half-time substitutions, but there wasn't a weak link in the All Blacks today, with many outstanding performances – in fact, I believe that this is the best Douglas performance I've watched and I've seen some belters! Sherwin Douglas is staying tight-lipped about the players that he will be releasing for transfer this week, but I'm fairly sure that Stan the Man, Big Cylvio and Colm Nancy will be made available and although Teagan Wolfe is the favourite to be offered, Douglas may just think that Axi or Zara are ready for the big time. I guess we'll see when the transfer list is released this evening!

PROPOSED YOUTH LEAGUE CHANGES

Fourteen Youth League tournaments have now been completed and there have been a few comments from managers about the game. Coupled with these comments I have had a number of reservations about the longer term prospects of the Youth League itself. On the back of this I floated an idea to change the Youth League at the recent meet-up and after tweaking my ideas, I would like to outline my proposal.

Firstly, I will outline the main issue relating to this change. Many managers have for some time now been able to put out a full team of skill 5 youth players every week. Not only does this make the process of playing a game fairly boring with things being very equal, it also hinders player development as no one can rise in skill. With the rules allowing skill 5 players to be introduced and trained very easily, the skill 5s in the Youth League are often artificially made and the top performing players do not stand out. This also affects international selection with newly introduced or part-time players often needing just one good performance in the right week to pick up a cap.

The change I am proposing is pretty simplistic in its basic form. We now allow players to rise above skill 5 in the Youth League if they get a 9 rating. This will mean we have skill 6s, 7s and maybe 8s, 9s and 10s in the game giving the game more depth and diversity.

In terms of promotion prospects, these high skill youth players will still only be skill 5 players if/when promoted to the senior ranks but they will gain an advantage in terms of IR and thus potential youth international selection. Plus, sides with such players will stand a better chance of winning their youth fixtures.

Dealing with such players will need a big deal of thought. A skill 6 youth player must be considered as a skill 5 in terms of all dealing. We must also ensure that managers do not start to swap high skill youth players for multiple lower skilled youth players. Personally, I would not see to many managers wishing to sell their potential better youth players so hopefully this will not be an issue.

Any comments are very welcome, either via the forum (play nicely – everyone's opinion is valid even if you do not think so) or drop me an email. I hope to introduce this change with the start of the next tournament in two weeks if there are no major issues.

EINNEK TWO TIMETABLE

I have a lot of coding issues to work on before Einnek Two can start but the outline timetable is as follows:

February 14th:	Payment emails will start to be sent out. As I currently have more applicants than teams available I will have to allocate places based on when I receive each manager's payment. I have a defined process for this to be fair to those who replied to my original email requests first, so please do not start sending money now to try and jump the queue.
February 21st:	The website will open up for team registration and player naming. No previously used team or player names will be allowed and player's skill levels may be decreased if anyone blatantly abuses this request. Also, I would request you try to have team colours which are not all predominantly black (which seems to be a recent trend) – please use a little imagination.
February 28th:	Einnnek Two website opened up for pre-season dealing and agent player sales. If your side is not entered by this point you may lose your place in the game!
March 6th:	First games played.

So get ready with your money and get your thinking caps on for team and player names.
